COMMENTS: To reiterate, he believes that he made a minor, honest mistake. He filled out the report and clicked submit, but not the second submit/email confirmation button that actually sent it through. I corrected it as soon as he received the notice by mail. He also did not raise or spend any money in this campaign, and this is also his first infraction of this kind. He does not have anything else to offer outside of this mea culpa and plea for mercy, he will instead propose this: Please, instead of waiving, defer the imposition of the fine. He will likely run for office again in the future, and if he makes another mistake, he will not dispute this assessment if it is tacked on to any future penalty. As a further gesture of good faith in his attempt to be as honest and forthcoming as possible with all this, he has paid the late fee.

Re: Request for Reconsideration. Docket ID: 2021-373

To whom it may concern:

Please allow this letter to serve as my request for reconsideration for this late fee assessment that the board declined to waive. I do not have substantial additional information to submit outside of what I sent in my original request. To reiterate, I believe that I made a minor, honest mistake. I filled out the report and clicked submit, but not the second submit/email confirmation button that actually sent it through. I corrected it as soon as I received your notice by mail. I also did not raise or spend any money in this campaign, and this is also my first infraction of this kind.

The only thing I have to offer in addition is that I received the certified letter regarding the board's decision, but the post office simply dropped it in my mailbox without having me sign for it or detaching the return receipt. Still, in order to show that I am trying to proceed in good faith, I am responding nonetheless instead of trying to hide behind procedural imperfections.

So, as I do not have anything else to offer outside of this mea culpa and plea for mercy, I will instead propose this: Please, instead of waiving, defer the imposition of the fine. I will likely run for office again in the future, and if I make another mistake, I will not dispute this assessment if it is tacked on to any future penalty. As a further gesture of good faith in my attempt to be as honest and forthcoming as possible with all this, I have enclosed a check for the late fee with the hard copy of this letter. If you choose to grant my reconsideration request for deferral, please simply destroy the check. If not, please consider the late fee paid. I leave the decision to you.

Sincerely,

Everett C. Baudean
